

A NEW POLICY FOR PORTUGAL

Admiral do Amaral, the New Premier, Will Reverse the Entire Dictatorship.

FRANCO'S FALL COMPLETE.

No Headway Made in Unraveling Plot Which Resulted in Murder of King and Crown Prince.

Lisbon, Feb. 4.—Lisbon is beginning to recover from the shock and horror of Saturday's bloody tragedy, but a strong undercurrent of popular and governmental nervousness remains. The political tension is slackening, although the Progressists refuse to join in the concentration cabinet which Admiral Ferreira do Amaral is forming from all the monarchial groups, because the Conservatives are in predominance. The fifth, however, is likely to be a steady and a temporary union of all the monarchial elements attained for the purpose of getting the country back on a constitutional basis, "ending agitation and restoring tranquility," as expressed by the leaders. Senior Bernardino Machado, the leader of the peaceful wing of the republicans, has been provided that his friends now under arrest are liberated, freedom of the press restored and the elections ordered. Admiral do Amaral, a devoted friend of the queen, who assumes power, is committed to the reversal of the entire policy of the dictatorship, the abolition of repressive measures and the restoration of the "old Liberal monarchy." On Saturday, government by decree will be withdrawn, amnesty accorded political offenders not implicated in deeds of violence, and the embargo of the press raised.

DOWNFALL OF FRANCO.

Franco's downfall is complete. He recognized that it was impossible to saddle the youthful king at the outset of his reign with the crown from which he was immediately banished and deportation of several hundred political offenders, to which he had committed himself if he retained office. He told a friend that the assassination of the king ended his political career. He offered his services, however, but these were refused, both by Queen Amelie and the dowager queen, Maria Pia, agreeing with the unanimous view of the council of state that the author of the dictatorship should be cast aside.

PILOT UNSOLVED.

Practically no headway has been made in unravelling the plot of which the murder of the king and crown prince was but one step. The police now admit that the three men arrested were not involved. Every one of the persons named in the plot has been killed or escaped in the confusion. The identification of these three throws but little light upon their connection. While it is believed by some that they were involved in the conspiracies which were unearthed in the latter part of January, it is possible that the regime was planned and executed on the spur of the moment, after the appearance of a decree by a small group of militant revolutionaries or anarchist socialists, who may have imagined that the obliteration of the Braganza dynasty would cause a spontaneous uprising of the people. The conspiracy was followed by both respects, as the younger prince escaped and the people went in mourning for the double funeral on Saturday.

SIGNS OF MOURNING ABSENT.

A visitor would be struck by the absence of the conventional signs of national mourning. The white and blue flag of Portugal and the standards of the foreign countries are half-masted and officers have black bands on their arms, but only here and there is a knot of crepe at the windows. Among the better classes the men wear black cravats. The royal army shops are draped and shutters half-closed. Most of the European countries are sending special missions to attend the funeral, these including the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Austria. The Countess of Paris, Queen Amelie's mother, will arrive tonight. Two ships of the British fleet at Vigo are expected here. King Carlos having held rank as an admiral in the British navy. The two queens remain in the palace with their dead, prostrated with grief. The queen mother is heart-broken. Both are devoted Catholics and spend much of their time in prayer.

THE NEW CABINET.

During the day Admiral do Amaral succeeded in bringing the opposing factions to his way of thinking and finally announced that the cabinet had been definitely constituted as follows: Premier and Minister of the Interior—Admiral do Amaral; Minister of Public Works—Carvet Magalhães; Minister of Marine—Vice Admiral Augusto de Castilho; Minister of Justice—Arthur Alberto de Campos Henriques; Minister of Foreign Affairs—Dr. Winchester de S. Paolista Lima; Minister of Finance—Manuel Alfonso d'Espregueira; Minister of War—Sebastião Custódio de Sousa Telles; Admiral Ferreira do Amaral, Senhor Magalhães and Admiral Augusto de Castilho are known as Independents. Senhor Henriques and Dr. Lima are Regenerators, and Senhor de Espre-

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM

Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and the Proof Is Right Here.

For years evidence that inflammatory rheumatism is curable by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills has been published.

That hundreds of people have tried the treatment with good results is shown by the increasing number of cures reported. Every sufferer from this most painful disease who does not try this treatment is neglecting the most hopeful means of recovery as is shown by the statement of Mr. E. C. Odell, of Morrison, Ill.

"I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism for eighteen months before I found a cure," he says, "I had always been more or less troubled with my kidneys and stomach. The rheumatic attack came on a few years ago when I was living in New York state. All of my muscles were inflamed and I was swollen from head to foot. I couldn't walk any distance at all without resting. The pains were dull and aching and, once in a while were sharp and shooting. The rheumatism began to affect my heart causing fainting spells. I was under a doctor's treatment for about a year, but didn't derive any help from it and in fact I think I grew worse. I saw an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a newspaper and began to use them at once. The relief was almost immediate and I took the pills until cured. I have never had the rheumatism return. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were originally a prescription used in the doctor's private practice and their benefit to mankind has been increased many thousand fold by their being placed on general sale with the doctor's own directions for their use. They are entirely safe and contain no opium or other habit-forming drugs. They build up the blood, strengthen the nerves and have cured rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, anemia, troubles of women and growing girls and many forms of weakness."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

gueria, and Senhor Sousa Telles are Progressists. The last two ministers count upon the support of all the monarchial factions.

Admiral de Castilho and Senhor Magalhães never held office before. In an interview the new premier said that he had accepted the power in order to pacify the disturbed public and establish normal life, because he believed that the Portuguese people were devotedly attached to the monarchy. If revolution ever came, he said, the terrible crime which has overwhelmed the nation would prevent its realization.

Premier do Amaral plans to hold the elections in April. He, together with his entire cabinet, paid an official visit to the palace this afternoon. Admiral do Amaral is invested with full powers of the government, but he consults frequently with King Manuel and Queen Amelie.

PENNSYLVANIA CAPITOL FURNITURE STEALINGS.

Harrisburg, Feb. 4.—In the capitol conspiracy case today, in order to further illustrate that in paying for the capitol furniture the state was made to pay for air space, new exhibits of furniture and photographs of the rostrum in the senate and house caucuses rooms were offered in evidence by the Commonwealth. J. H. Sanderson collected $90,748 and paid the sub-contractor who made them $2,000.

Fred H. Potter of the Audit company of New York was called to identify his inventory of the capitol furniture. The testimony developed that in the general crowding of the capitol with capitol furniture, no record was observed, no record was kept, and as a result some of the sofas cannot be found. Potter produced an inventory of all the furniture in the capitol and testified that the measurements were taken.

The speaker's chair from the house was exhibited. When it was announced that the chair had been billed at 59 feet, at $12.50 per foot, totaling $736.15, spectators gave a prolonged whistle of amazement. The chair measured 31 inches front, 29 inches deep and 91 inches high. Mr. Potter said the only possible way of getting the number of feet charged for by Sanderson for the chair was by computing the contents of a box that would cover it.

T. Stewart Pierce, cashier of the state treasury under Treasurer Harris and Matthews, said settlements were made for furniture before the invoices were approved by the board of grounds and buildings.

MURDERER TALKED TOO MUCH FOR HIS OWN GOOD

Boulder, Mont., Feb. 4.—The state closed its case in the trial of Harry J. Gruber, charged with the murder of Engineer Frank Glaw, whose train was held up by two men near Welch's Spur last May, at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon. Link by link the state forged a chain of circumstances about Gruber. The accused is another example of a man who wrote and talked too much for his own good. This morning the state presented its case to the jury. The officers of the law and to army officers on the Pacific coast were introduced in evidence, and they were damaging to the defense.

The state's witnesses in the Towers case testified similarly against Gruber. Towers, Gruber's pal, convicted in the first degree, will be a witness for Gruber.

NIGHT RIDER OUTRAGE

Salem, Ky., Feb. 4.—Two hundred masked night riders visited Dycusburg, Ky., early this morning and applied the torch to the Bennett tobacco warehouse and distillery. Both were completely destroyed. The loss is about $10,000. The mob shot up the home of William Groves, foreman of the tobacco factory, drove him from the building and whipped him almost to death. Henry Bennett, a member of the firm of Bennett Brothers, was taken from his home, tied to a tree and severely whipped. He was left bound to the tree. Bennett Brothers operate an independent factory and have been buying tobacco from non-association growers, it is alleged.

HUGHES ENDORSED.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Feb. 4.—Resolutions endorsing the candidacy of Gov. Hughes for president and pleading its efforts to bring about his nomination, were adopted by the Dutchess county Republican club last night.

TOOK SPECIAL MESSAGE AS TEXT

Sharp Williams Declared it Did Not Meet With Approval of Entire American People.

DANGEROUS THINGS IN IT.

Not Deserving of an All Around Eulogy by Any Man Who Loved Democratic Institutions.

Washington, Feb. 4.—General debate on the Indian appropriation bill in the house today extended so as to permit its continuance until the close of the session tonight.

Mr. William (Mississippi) was recognized at once for an hour, and taking for his text the president's message yesterday, said he disagreed with Mr. Hepburn's statement of yesterday that the message met with the approval of the entire American people. Indeed, he said, there are things in it sensational, federalistic and dangerous to the American public.

Mr. Hepburn, he declared, had threatened "the big four" of the house—the speaker and Messrs. Payne, Daboll and Sherman—when he asserted that the house would pass the remedial legislation the president had recommended. He hoped to see the standard of rebellion raised by Mr. Hepburn, and he said he hoped to see some of the things spoken of in the message enacted into law. He was not a hero worshiper, and therefore he would not regard the message "without any regard to the Honorable Theodore Roosevelt, from whom the message emanated. I should consider it as a man who loved applause, 'just as if it had been a message emanating in the past from Grover Cleveland or William McKinley, or any of those who were afraid of a radical in the White House. He discussed briefly the possibility of railroad rate legislation, and insisted that it was not of those who were afraid of a radical in the White House."

Mr. Williams declared that he was not of those who were afraid of a radical in the White House. He discussed briefly the possibility of railroad rate legislation, and insisted that it was not of those who were afraid of a radical in the White House."

Returning to the president's message, Mr. Williams said it was not deserving of an all around eulogy upon the part of those who were afraid of a radical in the White House. There were, however, good things in it. He did not think, he said, that the Democrats would endorse that part of the message, which recommended restoring to the railroads the power to pool, or which advocated licensing of corporations, or which declared it was less to attempt to punish the "men, flesh, the beings" who violated the law in the name of corporate authority. As to the corporations, Mr. Williams said, they never would be properly punished "until you visit punishment upon the flesh and blood from whose brains and by whose acts the violations take place."

In this connection he referred to Paul Morton, former secretary of the navy, and said:

"Did he get out of the cabinet to go to a prison after a confession of a long-continued violation of the severe laws?"

No, he said, but instead he jumped into a lucrative position in private life, "with a letter of recommendation from the president of the United States."

Mr. Williams insisted that a corporation as such could not commit a crime, and therefore he advocated punishing the responsible heads of corporations. "Punish the man," he said, "and you will not have to punish any more."

Mr. Williams said he did not like to "stand here and anywhere merely as the mouthpiece of a heterogeneous body of oppositional criticism and contention," he believed that the party that he represented, "the party that in the past so gloriously led its country," was capable of leading it again, no less gloriously.

Alluding to W. J. Bryan "as our proposed leader," Mr. Williams declared squarely with the Nebraskan on declared principles and policies, and predicted his election, when he said: "I hope to see this man in New York City, in my hand—the one which I hold in discussing—some day signed by him."

Again reverting to the president's message, Mr. Williams received more applause from his side of the chamber when he said its omissions were more significant than its commissions. "He has talked," Mr. Williams said, "about proletariat wealth and rich and powerful criminals and how important it is to shake the cunning," and yet, he said, addressing the Republicans, "with the exception of a little insignificant utterance about putting works of art, wood pulp and paper on the free list he has never raised his voice against the very policies to enter at the heart of your entire system."

"The president," he continued, "has spoken of rotten business methods, but now," in the Haywood case, he reads us a lesson. Not only does he leave out the central, corrupt and corrupting evil and states the socialist animosity, but he forgets to tell us why, with regard to the things he does mention, that he did not mention them in 1901, 1902 and 1903."

ORCHARD'S TRIAL.

Case Will be Called at Caldwell Next Month.

Boise, Idaho, Feb. 4.—Prosecuting Atty. Van Dusen of Canyon county, who has just been in the city, said that the Harry Orchard case would be called at Caldwell next month. He says that Orchard is a man of a guilty conscience, and that evidence will then be introduced to prove the corpus delicti and the stenographer who took the evidence. Orchard is charged with the murder of ex-Gov. Steunenberg. Van Dusen says he does not believe it will be necessary to introduce any new evidence, and that the trial will only take a few minutes before it is passed up to the jury.

TELLER SAYS LOCK CANAL WILL BE A FAILURE.

Washington, Feb. 4.—The deficiency appropriation of $12,178,000 for the Panama canal, contained in the urgent deficiency appropriation bill, provoked a general discussion in the senate today concerning the publishing of a newspaper on the isthmus by Secy. Bishop, giving information on canal affairs. The Culberson amendment that no part of the money appropriated for deficiency should be used for the purpose of publishing a newspaper in the canal zone, was disagreed to.

The senate report of Mr. Bishop in sending out information to newspapers was referred to by senators, and Mr. Hale declared that he had been opposed to the publication of a newspaper in the present publication. He understood the paper contained only a record of information on canal matters, and it is desired to spread among the employees.

Formerly, he said, editorial matter had been sent out, but believed nothing of the kind exists now.

Mr. Culberson said the official who edits the paper at Panama had simply shifted it from the United States to Panama.

Senator Teller spoke of the general canal project, and said that he regretted that a sea-level canal had been abandoned.

"I wish to put myself on record," he said, "in saying that in my judgment the lock canal will be an absolute failure and will not meet the demands of commerce."

Mr. Teller said that estimating for a lock canal is fraught with great uncertainty, although a sea level can be estimated upon accurately. He had, he said, noticed now that it is suggested that the lock canal be enlarged. "If the right man had had control of this canal project in the beginning," said Mr. Teller, "there would be no need for such a suggestion for a change of plans now."

He believed that the lock canal would cost but little less than a sea level. "I do not believe any engineer in this country today believes it can be built for $300,000,000, and when it is built it will be a second-class canal."

"Some of us will live to see this canal abandoned, and some of us will live to see a sea-level canal between the Atlantic and Pacific."

Mr. Teller said this discussion was of little profit, as Congress had taken the canal out of its hands and placed the control of it in the president, and no one believed that a bill could be passed to bring it back in the hands of Congress.

PENSION AGENCIES.

Washington, Feb. 4.—The house committee on appropriations today reported favorably the pension bill for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909.

The bill reported abolishes the pension agencies located at Augusta, Me.; Boston, Buffalo, Chicago, Columbus, O.; Concord, N. H.; Des Moines, Iowa; Indianapolis, Ind.; New York City, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, San Francisco, and Toledo, and consolidates them in one central distributing agency at Washington.

The bill reported carries a total pension appropriation of $150,869,000, which is $174,000 less than the aggregate estimated for the fiscal year available by the consolidation of the agencies.

The Wrong Way.

Many Physicians Try to Cure Dyspepsia by Having Their Patients Starve Out the Disease.

This Method May Ruin the Stomach.

To become a physician one must study medical literature for a long time and attend several years at a medical college, dissect at least one human body, pass many quizzes and examinations, and at last receive his diploma, which entitles him to the M. D. degree.

Yet all this does not necessarily make a doctor.

We have known many graduates, with their sheepskins, who could not apply the knowledge they had acquired to relieving and curing a patient of dyspepsia.

They were floored by their first attempt to cure such a patient. They were not to blame for this, for all the knowledge they acquired from medical works was wholly experimental. They were told to try the following:

Aromatic Ammonia.
Bicarbonate of Soda.
Bicarbonate of Potash.
Blue Mass.
Camphor Water.
Catechu.
Charcoal.
Croscote.
Hot Water.
Lime Water.
Magnesia.
Mineral Waters.
Nitric Acid.
Nitro-Muriatic Acid.
Nuxvomica.
Oil of Amber.
Oil of Cajuput.
Rhubarb.
Senna.
Syrup of Lavender.
Starvation.
Stychnia.
Sulphur.
Sulphate of Lime.
Tincture Cardamom.
Taraxacum.
Tincture Ginger.
Tincture of Iron.
Tonics.
Vegetable Bitters.

In the list hot water is the only remedy that will not do more harm than good, and its use is still an unsolved problem.

If the professor who coaches the graduate would hand him a package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and tell him that it was a specific for dyspepsia, indigestion, all stomach ailments, and should be his mainstay in such cases, that one grain of their active principle would digest 3,000 grains of food in the stomach, and that aided by the remedy, the stomach would regain its normal condition, he would do the student more good than sending him forth with a lot of uncertain knowledge about the cure of these diseased conditions.

The young doctor would gain a reputation by curing his first case of dyspepsia.

The patient cured would sound his praises far and near, as do thousands upon thousands who praise Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Instead of experimenting with the mess of medicine in the above list, and doing his patients more harm than good, he would always be gaining reputation by always curing his patient.

When he met any indication of a diseased organ, he should discover what hundreds of other doctors have found, that the whole trouble started with imperfect digestion and assimilation, then take out of his pocket medicine case a few of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and tell the patient how to use them.

The result would be considered by the patient almost miraculous, and success after success would be achieved by him.

Many blood diseases, skin eruptions and heart troubles yield readily to Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they cure the incubating cause—dyspepsia. If the stomach is wrong, you are wrong all over. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold everywhere at druggists—50 cents per package.
